PORTUGUE OF M 9: 02

IN THE UNITED STATES PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

BEFORE THE BOARD OF PATENT APPEALS AND INTERFERENCES

Ex Parte SCOTT D. LUCAS and ROBIN K. MASKELL

Appeal No 2003-1974 Application No.: 09/317,409

REQUEST FOR RECONSIDERATION

TOAGO OF PATENT APPEALS

This is a Request for Reconsideration of the September 30, 2003 Decision on Appeal affirming the Examiner's final rejection of Claims 55 and 57-59 under 35 USC §112, first paragraph. Reconsideration is requested in view of the following.

At issue is the phrase "in the absence of a tiedown ply contacting the honeycomb core" and the contention that this limitation in claim 55 is not supported by the present specification. The Board's decision in based on appellant's reliance on discussion in the specification relative to known methods to reduce core crush during autoclave process focusing on preventing the differential movement by either mechanical/physical means as exemplified by ties downs being used to keep the prepreg plies from differentially moving and Corbett's use of tie down plies for both the honeycomb core and the prepreg plies. Essentially, the Board concludes that since Corbett uses a tiedown ply for the honeycomb core that is separate and apart from the one for the prepreg plies, appellants disclosure of a tiedown ply being used to keep the prepreg plies from differentially moving would not be support for a tie down ply that contacts the honeycomb core. Appellants respectfully disagree.

Simply because the configuration in Corbett is one where there are two separate tie down plies for the honeycomb core and for the prepreg plies, respectively, it does not mean that Corbett stands for the overall teaching that in every instance where tie down plies are used these tie down plies will be separate and apart. Moreover, Appellants' claim reads "in the absence of a tie down ply contacting the honeycomb core" so the relevant feature is that the tie down ply contact the honeycomb core, not that it constrain its differential movement. In other words just because the tie down ply contacts the honeycomb core does not mean that it would not be constraining the differential movement of the prepreg plies which abut the core and which are taught in the present specification.

In view of the foregoing claims 55 and 57-59 are in compliance with 35 USC §112, first paragraph. Reconsideration and reversal of the Board's affirmation of their final rejection thereunder are thus earnestly solicited.

Respectfully submitted,

Fran S. Wasserman
